

MCARTHY TO LIST ALIEN WOMEN HERE

United States Marshal Says
Registering Plans Are Under Way.

WORK STARTS IN 2 WEEKS

Interment to Be Penalty for Violation of Country's Laws.

Thomas D. McCarthy, United States Marshal, announced yesterday that he had been notified by Attorney-General Gregory to prepare for the registration of alien women of German birth. The registration is the outcome of the law which makes enemy women liable to the same regulations as enemy men, with interment as the penalty for disobedience.

Marshal McCarthy declared that the registration would begin in two or three weeks, and would be carried out in a manner similar to that of the registration of male enemies in February. The police will enumerate the registrants in cities of over 5,000, and the postmasters will direct the work in smaller communities.

Will Have to Report.

Enemy women over 14 years old will have to report at the police stations in the precincts in which they live, submit photographs of themselves, have their fingerprints taken, and fill out an affidavit blank which will require comprehensive data relating to themselves and their families.

Marshal McCarthy estimated that there are 25,000 women subject to registration in the southern district of New York, which includes Manhattan, The Bronx and Hudson River counties as far north as Albany county.

Many women have been appearing at Marshal McCarthy's office and at the enemy alien bureau since the enactment of the woman spy law to inquire about the possibility of registration.

Women whose wealth has sheltered them from contact with the crowd said that they dreaded the ordeal of going to a police station and submitting to having their fingerprints made. Some of them asked if exceptions would be made in their cases.

The Federal officials answered that the carrying out of the law would be left to the police, but that it was unlikely that any favoritism would be shown.

Nearly 40,000 male enemies were registered in Manhattan and The Bronx.

Troublesome Question.

During the registration of males the question on the affidavit that gave the most trouble to registrants was the following: "State whether registrant has or has had any male relatives in arms for or against the United States and its allies during the present war."

Ten days was given to the registration of males. Many men who could not show registration cards have been arrested since the enrollment.

Natives of Austria-Hungary were not required to register in President Wilson's proclamation ordering the enrollment of male Germans.

The registration of women enemies will present some puzzling questions of citizenship. An Assistant United States Attorney was asked yesterday if the alien born widow of a German subject became an American citizen with her husband's death. He was of the opinion that if a widow returned to the United States and established residence here her status as an American citizen would return to her automatically.

Women born in Germany but married to American citizens are citizens of this country.

OFFERED FISH MEN $25,000,000.

George W. Perkins's Plan to Cheapen Food Revealed.

Boston, May 3.—How George W. Perkins of New York made an independent investigation of the fish business and offered to assist in financing any plan that might result in increasing production and lowering prices, was brought out in the hearing to-day in the Government's civil suit against Boston fish dealers charged with maintaining a monopoly.

William H. Beardsley, manager of the Boston Fish Pier Company, testified regarding a visit of Mr. Perkins to this city in 1916, and a conference in New York later. Mr. Perkins said there was a "colossal waste of money" and that the business was being conducted in the same manner as forty years ago.

Later, Mr. Beardsley said, an organization in which Mr. Perkins is interested acquired independent fishing properties in New York, Rockport and Gloucester.

TO CONTROL PAPER INDUSTRY.

War Board Bureau Will Work Out
Conservation Plans.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The War Industries Board will form a paper section to handle all matters relating to the paper industry. Conservation plans are being worked out by the board and the Fuel Administration. It is said the entire industry will be reorganized with conservation the chief factor.

Officials say it is not likely there will be any curtailment of the news print industry, but other branches will come in for curtailment or readjustment.

POSTAL INCREASE CHECKED.

Senate Committee Questions Rider to Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Another development came late to-day which is favorable to opponents of increased second class postage rates which become effective July 1.

The Senate Post Office Committee appointed a sub-committee to report whether the postage question under the rules may be made a rider to the post office appropriation bill or must be a separate bill.

CAPITAL TO REMAIN MOIST.

Congressmen Refuse to Make District of Columbia "Bone Dry."

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The House Committee on Post Offices turned down today a proposition to make the District of Columbia "bone dry." Representative Randall of California told the committee that Congress has been attacked because it is a "dry" alone is exempted from the provisions of the law against shipment of liquor into dry territory.

The committee voted adversely on Mr. Randall's bill to include the District of Columbia in the "bone dry" law.

WOMAN HITS THIEF WITH MILK BOTTLE

Loose Cream, but Saves Her Dressed Chicken.

POUGHKEEPSIE, May 3.—Mrs. Blanche Wigg of Poughkeepsie, near here, is enjoying the reputation of being the best shot in town when it comes to hurling milk bottles. She won the championship early to-day when she sent a bottle across her back yard at a burglar who was making off with a dressed chicken which he had stolen from Mrs. Wigg's refrigerator. The police are seeking a man with the bump on the back of his head.

Mrs. Wigg's husband advised her to go to sleep when she told him at 4:30 o'clock this morning that she thought she heard a burglar downstairs. So she investigated alone. Entering the kitchen she saw the form of a man going through a back window. She darted out of the rear door and saw the thief going over the back fence. The bottle of milk left on the porch an hour before by the milkman, was the only thing loose in reach. The next moment it went hurtling through the air, straight at the figure going over the fence. With a yell, the burglar dropped his booty and vanished.

I. W. W. AGENTS DENY SECRET ACTIVITIES

Haywood's Secretary Says She Was Told to Work
Openly.

CHICAGO, May 3.—The Government to-day cleared the way for presentation of evidence intended to prove that 112 leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, on trial in Federal District Court here, entered a conspiracy last year to obstruct enlistments, munition production and other war measures.

A number of witnesses, all employees and members of the I. W. W., appeared for the Government and identified signatures, literature and alleged seditious matter, but all asserted there had been no secrecy about the activities of the organization.

Alex Kohler, manager of the organization's publishing bureau, testified that in 1917, before the Government's nationwide raid, he proposed in a short time turned out 50,000 copies of "The Appeal to Workers," 25,000 song books, 50,000 stickers, which were to be struck down industrial plants where strikes were contemplated.

Secret service agents were sent out to-night in search of A. H. Bird, an employee in the publishing department of the I. W. W., whose testimony is said to be important.

Miss Hilda Seary, private secretary to William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, appearing as a Government witness, testified that meetings of the general executive board were frequent early in the spring of 1917, but declared she had no knowledge of any unusual proceedings.

Under cross-examination Miss Seary concluded:

"Mr. Haywood and counsel for the defense instructed me to tell the court all I knew, truthfully and as accurately as possible. They told me there was to be no secrecy about any of our affairs."

The following telegram was sent to the chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the United States Senate to-day by Haywood and the I. W. W. secretaries throughout the country:

"The undersigned demand a thorough investigation of the Industrial Workers of the World before any extra party legislation is introduced."

The King-Walsh bill is passed by Congress.

ARMY CLERK SEIZED ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Salesman and Broker Also Taken Into Custody.

Lawrence Goldman, 32, a civilian clerk in the purchasing department of the Army Transportation Service, while in place, was arrested yesterday charged with accepting $1,000 as a bribe from W. C. Colson, a salesman of lifeboats and life rafts. Goldman is alleged to have been accepting bribes to influence the awarding of army contracts since January 1, during which time contracts aggregating $100,000 have passed through his hands.

Colson, Thomas C. Galbraith, a salesman for rubber fire hose, and John Craven, a broker dealing in chemicals, were arrested with Goldman. Colson is charged with bribing the two others with attempted bribery. All were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hitchcock. Goldman was held in $5,000 bail and the others in $3,000 bail each for hearings.

Goldman lives at 53 Harmon street, Brooklyn. He attracted suspicion by his lavish spending. The Police Department was asked to investigate with the result that Lieut. George Busby arrested Goldman and the three others. Goldman is said not only to have spent money freely but to have made substantial bank deposits in his wife's name. He is alleged to have manipulated the bids on Government work so that the contracts went to the firms he picked out.

COMMISSIONERS FOR THREE.

New Yorkers Qualify at Camp Grant, Illinois.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The following new from New York City have been listed as eligible for appointment as second lieutenants in the army after having completed the course of training at Camp Grant, Ill.

Donald Cooper, Lester Avenue, Richmond Hill, Infantry; Miles O'Reilly, 223 Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn, Infantry; and George E. Willis, 529 Eighteenth avenue, Long Island City, Infantry.

Miles O'Reilly is a grandson of Capt. Miles O'Reilly, one of New York's most picturesque and best remembered police captains and at one time borough inspector in Brooklyn. For years he fought gambling and disreputable dance halls in the "Tenderloin." Yesterday afternoon "Cap" O'Reilly arrayed in his civil war uniform, made a Liberty bond speech at Borough Hall.

WOODEN SOLES FOR ARMY.

Experiments Will Be Made to Save Leather.

BROOKLYN, Mass., May 3.—Experiments with wooden soles as a substitute for leather in army shoes have been ordered by the Government. It was learned to-day. An order for 1,000 soles to be made with both maple and poplar wood has been placed with a firm in this city.

The manufacturers assert that a saving of nearly $2 a pair can be made if the sole is found to answer requirements.

Fires Burn Canadian Theatre.

THREE RIVERS, Quebec, May 3.—Fire in the film room of the Victoria Theatre to-day destroyed the building, stores and residences, with a loss estimated at $150,000.

PORT SLOCUM MEN FOR JERSEY UNITS

Camp McClellan Division to Be Filled With Volunteers.

20 OFFICERS PROMOTED

Lieut-Col. Reckord and Major
Hobart Brown Among Soldiers Raised in Rank.

Special Despatch to THE SUN.

CAMP McCLELLAN, ANNISTON, Ala., May 3.—Eight commissioned and fifteen non-commissioned officers of this division were to-day detailed to go to Fort Slocum, N. Y., for the purpose of escorting a detachment of recruits to Camp McClellan. The division is considerably below strength, and these men, many of whom are New Jersey volunteers concentrated temporarily at Fort Slocum, will be distributed among the various units with the idea of bringing the quota up to the desired notch.

The following men will compose the escort: Capt. Louis C. Voght, 110th Field Artillery, Louis R. Page, 112th Heavy Field Artillery, and Winston B. Davis, 114th Infantry; First Lieut. Walter Katzenberger and Phillip Molson, 115th Infantry; Vernon T. D. Stultz, 111th Machine Gun Battalion, Robert C. McNulty, 114th Infantry, and Christopher C. McMahon, 112th Infantry; First Sergeant George C. Guy, 111th Field Artillery, and John W. Mann, 110th Field Artillery; Sergeants William C. Rackett and Paul Johnston, 113th Infantry; Henry W. Zulauf, 111th Machine Gun Battalion, George S. Dart, 114th Infantry, Marshall H. Rohr, 110th Field Artillery, James C. Cleary, 111th Field Artillery, and Hugh McGinley, George A. Davis and George T. O'Brien, 115th Infantry; Color Sergeant John H. Kelly, 114th Infantry, and Corporal Thomas M. Haight, Charles E. Bryan and Alexander H. Kelley of the 116th Infantry.

Twenty commissioned officers in New Jersey units were promoted to-day for efficiency shown during the months of organization. Major Hobart Brown, commander of the old New Jersey cavalry squadron, and recently commander of the Twenty-ninth Division Military Police, has been promoted to a Lieutenant-Colonel and Lieut-Col. Milton A. Reckord of the 115th Infantry has been raised to Colonel.

The following second lieutenants have been promoted to first lieutenants in the organizations to which they are now assigned: George V. Neuber, Herbert Payne, Earl F. Reynolds, Donald Wilson, Jesse V. Reed, Mark Munzell, Henry F. Powell, James F. Smith, William D. Cunningham, Richard H. Fenn, James V. Fitzsimmons, Walter H. Gannaway, Jonathan C. Gibson, George H. Grimm, Frank L. Hewitt, William P. Kennedy, Elmer M. Jones, Philip K. Molson.

ONION SEED OUTLOOK POOR.

High Prices Caused Underplanting for This Season.

The outlook for the 1918 Canary Island and onion seed crop indicates a reduction in the amount of seed, despite the fact that the big demand and high prices during the 1917 season caused an earnest effort by the growers to enlarge their planting.

The high prices demanded in September and October for high quality bulbs, which were due to a decided scarcity, especially as regards the white or wax variety, actually resulted in considerable underplanting, so that at present the best available figures appear to indicate a shortage of approximately 20 to 25 per cent. in developed plants as compared with 1917 figures. The plants are about 12 inches high and as the result of a more than normal rainfall during the November-February period are well developed and in excellent condition.

The onion bulbs used for bulb raising last season suffered somewhat for the lack of potato salts, while there is reason to believe that there is not so much phosphate being fed to the present crop as is usually considered desirable.

REPORT THAT WIGGIN WILL QUIT COAL POST

Wholesale Dealers Ask Practical Man Be Administrator.

A rumor is current in the coal trade that Albert H. Wiggin is about to resign his post as State Fuel Administrator. Mr. Wiggin, who is chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National Bank, is out of town. G. M. Dahl, a vice-president of the bank and a member of the State fuel conservation committee, said last evening when asked about the rumor: "I do not think the matter should be discussed at this time."

Directors of the Wholesale Coal Trade Association talked matters over at a meeting yesterday and instructed Charles S. Allen, secretary of the association, to send a telegram to National Fuel Administrator Garfield requesting in the event of Mr. Wiggin's resignation that his successor be a practical coal man.

"It is felt," the telegram read, "that there is a grave probability of a coal famine this year and the situation in New York under such circumstances demands calling into service a man who has a thorough knowledge not only of the requirements of this community and the territory dependent upon it for coal supply, but one who shall know thoroughly the producing district from which the supply must necessarily be drawn."

"If you agree it is desirable to appoint a man who has knowledge of the coal business, this association solicits the privilege of suggesting the names of men possessing the necessary qualifications."

Montclair Bars German Papers.

The Commissioners of Montclair, N. J., have adopted an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to sell or circulate newspapers or periodicals printed in the German language. The Board of Education will take up next week the question of excluding the study of German from the public schools.

TWO AMERICANS LIE IN NO MAN'S LAND

Tommy's Brave Death to Bury Engineers' Bodies.

This description of the first burial of American soldiers in No Man's Land appears in a letter from Paris to the Medical Record:

"Dawn broke on No Man's Land somewhere in France. From the observation post in a front line trench it was reported that the bodies of two American soldiers, fallen between the German and British lines. A detachment of engineers had been in action for the first time a few days previous.

"For days they lay there. English soldiers and Germans lay on the same field. It was impossible to reach them. The Hun's shells were still ploughing up great furrows of earth and the bullets from his small guns made it unwise to attempt to recover the bodies. Each morning as the light of day came the observers reported that the bodies were still there.

"Then one night in the darkness a party of Tommy's left the trenches. They carried spades instead of guns. It was a burial party and was in charge of a chaplain. When the following morning came the bodies of the two Americans were gone. A heap of shell holes had been filled up and on the top of it two white crosses marked the graves of the first Americans who had been buried in No Man's Land, where they had fallen fighting shoulder to shoulder with their British cousins for their convictions and their country's honor."

RUNAWAY EXCITES CROWD.

Frightened by Sprinkler, Horse
Races Twenty Blocks.

A bay horse, hitched to an unoccupied buggy, got badly scared at Eighty-first street and Columbus avenue yesterday afternoon when a passing sprinkling cart sprayed water on its hind legs. It ran west on Columbus avenue, turned north along Riverside Drive and didn't stop until two policemen seized it at 101st street. The chase caused much excitement.

The animal took to the sidewalk in the early stages of the race. Two taxicab drivers speeded past the runaway and warned women and children to get out of the way. Policeman Timothy Curtin of the West Sixty-eighth street station commanded an army officer's car and caught the horse by the bridle at Eighty-fourth street. The animal reared, the shaft of the buggy rammed the officer in the back, knocking him down, and the runaway continued on its wild way. Policeman William O'Keefe joined Curtin, who, although badly bruised, resumed the chase.

EUGENE HALE, JR., NOW PRIVATE IN U. S. ARMY

Member of Noted Maine Family Has Been at Front.

Special Despatch to THE SUN.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Eugene Hale, Jr., youngest son of Senator Hale of Maine, enlisted in the army to-day as a private. For several months Mr. Hale has had such action in contemplation. More than a year ago he went to France at his own expense and in the interest of making things more comfortable for the fighting men he established and conducted right under the German guns a canteen for the British and French.

Establishing himself in the one remaining room of the only remaining house in a French village destroyed in the incessant battling at the Somme, he maintained with the assistance of two Frenchmen for cooks his little free restaurant, serving coffee and cocoa, hot soup and sandwiches to the men engaged in the struggle. Under unremitting fire he pursued his task for five months. With the canteen a going concern he turned it over to his assistants and returned to the United States.

Mr. Hale will be sent to Camp Devens at Ayer, Mass., because in the opinion of the War Department officials he will have better opportunity there to associate with the new England rookies. Senator Fred Hale of Maine, his brother, was reticent to-day in regard to his brother's action. During Mr. Hale's absence his wife, who was Miss Terry of New York, will engage in Red Cross work.

Private Hale was graduated from Yale in 1908, and in addition to acquiring himself with honor as a student he had a good record in athletics. He passed an almost perfect physical examination upon enlistment, his condition being above the average for a man of 41 years. A slight deficiency in eyesight was waived by the examining surgeons.

NEWS PIRACY CASE ARGUED.

Supreme Court Hears Associated Press and Hearst.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Presentation of arguments on the petition of the International News Service—the Hearst service—for dissolution of injunctions restraining the Associated Press from practicing news piracy was completed to-day in the Supreme Court. The case was taken under advisement. No indication was given as to when an opinion would be rendered.

In presenting the Associated Press' side of the case Frederick W. Lehmann of St. Louis urged the court to sustain the lower court in enjoining the Hearst service from taking Associated Press' dispatches from bulletin boards and early editions of newspapers receiving the Associated Press service. He contended there is a property right in news, and that if that principle were overturned the establishment of a reasonable system of gathering news would be impossible.

Senator Johnson of California in making the concluding argument for the Hearst service argued that the principles to which the Associated Press objects in this suit, the taking of news by one organization and using it as its own by another, has been common since "time immemorial," and that both services have been guilty of the same practice.

Omnibus Pension Bill Indorsed.

The Liberty Loan Smile

YOU seldom see "Jack ashore" nowadays. He dropped in a few days ago "to see how the Liberty Loan campaign was going". We told him it would be over-subscribed. He left, smiling.

He is playing his part in this great war, and a most important part it is. He convoys our soldiers, and our vast shipments of ammunition and supplies, safely across the sea. He is up and aloft in the darkness and storm, watching, watching for the glint of a periscope that betrays the presence of those sneaking pirates, the submarines.

Tense and alert, keen for the fight that may come at any moment of the night or day, cool and resourceful when the torpedo strikes or the shells come screaming over the water, "Jack afloat" upholds the glorious traditions of the American Navy.

Let's send him a word, as he guards the ocean paths to France, that we are with him—that we believe in him—trust him—love him—and will back him up to the limit. Let's make sure that he smiles more broadly than ever when he hears about the Third Liberty Loan—let's send him a wireless that we've come through with every dollar we could rake together to arm, clothe and feed him as he smiles and fights his way to Victory!
